The Time to Make Good Roads.

All scientific road builders say April and May are the best months to make good solid roads, and they further say work done after June is worse than no work at all. This being the case all of what work was done last fall has so far been no benefit to the roads. We do think some road surveyor should try the working of a road dray. It is inexpensive to make and costs but 50 cents per mile to drag. This is to be done after hard rains at a time when farmers can not work in their crops. This is said to be the very best work possible to do to dirt roads. It costs so little and is claimed to do so much for the roads, we do think it should be tried this Spring in Powell county.

State Board of Agriculture Meets.

The State Board of Agriculture held a meeting at Louisville Friday. Harmony prevailed and an agreement reached whereby politics is to be entirely eliminated and the real good of the State taken up. Both parties will pull together for $200,000 00 from the next Legislature for the improvement of the State Fair.

Fred R. Blackburn, director from this district attended the meeting and was assigned to the work on, Horticulture, Forestry and Minerals.

Big Snow in Texas.

Word comes from former Powell county people now located in the Panhandle of Texas, that an eight inch snow had fallen there last week which had thoroughly wet the ground. While this put a brief stop to corn planting which was then going on, it insures a bumper wheat crop for that part of the state and wheat seems to be the principal crop in that section.

It will pay you to look at our line of Men's, Boys' and Youth's Clothing before making your purchase. Hardwick & Co., Stanton.

About Potatoes.

A news item states that a Fayette county farmer will plant twelve acres of potatoes, using for seed the much heralded Irish potatoes received direct from the "old sod." It is a pretty good idea to make certain of the seed you plant, and the above reminds the Democrat of the experience of a Clark county farmer some years ago. One season he had an extra fine crop of potatoes and late in the fall sold them to a Cincinnati commission firm. The next Spring, desiring to plant some fresh seed he bought several sacks of "Northern grown" potatoes from the same firm. On opening one of the sacks he found in it an account book that he had lost in the fall, and then realized that he had bought some of his own potatoes at a good advance in price.—Winchester Democrat.

What the Wind Does in Oklahoma.

We have had considerable high wind this week. One day when the wind was blowing so hard you had to hold the hat on your head an Oklahoman was heard to remark, "It blows this way in Oklahoma all the time." He was a young man, but it was noticed that very deep grooves of wrinkles were lined about his eyes. He said these premature wrinkles were induced by the constant squinting of the eyes to keep the wind from blowing them full of dust. Well, under such conditions, we remain perfectly contented at least when the wind is blowing because we know in Kentucky it will cease after a time.

The local option elections in the cities of Ashland and Cynthiamburg and in Boyd county resulted in Ashland going 107 "dry" and Cynthiamburg 22 "wet." The county outside of these towns went "dry" by 1,245 majority.

DEATH OF DAVID ROSE.

Died, at his home in our city, Sunday at 6 o'clock p. m., David Rose, aged 79, almost four score years. Burial Tuesday morning at his old home on Paint creek. He is survived by a wife and several children, all married. His sons being some of the best citizens of Powell county.

He was a man of generous impulse and never forgot the hospitable ways of the pioneer. The stranger, even though a beggar, never failed to find food and shelter if he sought it at his hands, and he was at home by the bedside of the sick and delighted in all kinds and neighborly offices. He had borne adversity bravely and enjoyed prosperity quietly. He had filled the various relations of life, as son, husband, father, brother, friend, and filled them well. Who can do more?

But he is gone! Another name is stricken from the ever lessening roll of our old settlers, and a solitary woman in the sunset of life, and a lonely home, are left to attest how sadly they will miss him. It must be so; these tender human ties cannot be severed without a pang. Yet in such a death there is really no cause for grief. His life work was done, and well done. He had passed his golden wedding day and wearied with life's duties and cares, weary of suffering and waiting, he lay down to rest.

"Tired! ah, yes! so tired dear, I shall soundly sleep tonight, With never a dream and never a fear, To wake in the morning light."

Hustle vs. Accepted.

Isn't it peculiar that now-a-days 95 per cent. of the people now "accept" positions. It used to be when an individual desired employment it was no disgrace and they got out and "hustled a job." Today they all "accept" positions. The writer has been hustling ever since he was old enough, and has managed to keep himself employed, but we haven't "accepted," nor yet had to reject a position. We once knew a young fellow desiring employment (we should say it was a case of have-to, rather than desire) got out and hustled and failed; his friends came to the rescue, and after several days' hard work on their part were at last successful in landing a $3-a-week job. The newspaper account of it said, "Mr. So and So has accepted a position with—" and etc. From the newspaper statement one would believe that the employer had to beg and persuade him to "accept the position," when, as a matter of fact, it took the eloquence of a dozen people two weeks before he would consent to even give the young man a trial.

There are instances where "the office seeks the man," but as we have said, observation leads us to believe that not more than five per cent. of the situations are offered direct—and how can one "accept" that which is not offered? Those who are to day employed are the ones who have "hustled" jobs, while those who merely "accept" positions are either unemployed or seeking work on the quiet. It is no disgrace, but rather an honor, to "hustle" good and hard for employment and after having secured it, keep on "hustling"—it will eventually place you in the class which can truthfully lay claim to having "accepted" a position.

Some Fine Speaking

The Hon. Thos. H. Duffey, of Dubuque, Iowa, National Lecturer Modern Woodmen of America and the Hon. J. W. DeHart, Louisville, Ky., State Deputy, gave a most entertaining talk at the school house last night to a pretty well filled house. The addresses were very instructive, and showed the Modern Woodmen of America to fine advantage. The Society which they represent is evidently a leader in fraternalism as well as a safe and secure line of insurance. A local camp of this order will be instituted in Clay City in the near future.

Writes from Indiana.

James H. Howell, of Bowen, has moved to Hillsdale, Ind., where he orders the Times sent to his address. In speaking of that state Mr. Howell says: "Kentucky is not the only state that is getting tired of saloons, for Indiana is fast getting rid of that dreaded nuisance. Three counties went dry last week and there are several more that will vote on local option soon. I am truly glad to see the people wake up."

Federal Court Decisions.

In Kentucky the law fixes the toll rate for grist mills, it fixed for one hundred years the toll rates for turnpikes, and in 1906 the Kentucky railroad commission fixed reasonable rates for the railroads, but the railroads felt too big for the law and carried the matter to the Federal courts by injunction and the Federal courts of last resort decided that the State could not do that.

The miller, the turnpike operators must suspend operations or conform to the law, but the big railroads must earn their stock holders 6 per cent on their stock, and are allowed to make the freight rate to do this. The railroads could conform to the law and yield the owners 6 per cent. on the cost of the road, but the stock in this, like all other big corporations, is watered sometimes four fold so that 6 per cent. on the stock is really from 12 to 24 per cent. on the cost.

The Federal Court business is disgusting in the main. It seems to do the bidding of the big concerns. A few weeks ago the Federal court knocked out the prosecution of the Standard Oil Company and released it of the $29,000,000 fine; and it was the Federal court that knocked out the 2 cent passenger rate in Missouri, and it is the Federal court that has just undone the fair workings of the Kentucky Railroad Commission in fixing freight rates.

The Federal courts seem to knock out every good law the states may enact where it is for the benefit of the people against the big corporations. Verily, the Federal courts are doing all they can to enslave the people.

The Judges of the Federal courts are all appointed by the President of the United States. Thus indirectly we are led to see the absolute power of the President at last. He can appoint Judges to his own liking and these can undo any laws or legislation the State may enact and there is no recourse. This is a shame, and we must confess that this is in reality anything but a free country. It is today a country where no man can eat a meal without paying tribute to a trust; no man can be clothed without paying tribute to the trust; no one can lie on a good bed without again paying tribute to the trusts, then no one can today evade paying tributes to the trust. But worst of all according to the Federal courts decision there is no remedy but to grin and bear it. Every word of the above is true though shameful that it is true.

Our Best Friends.

The Times is not at all strenuous in the cause of the Democratic party. In business or friendship it knows neither party, is as blind to party as a stick, but in politics it is Democratic. However, in its news columns, the party line is not drawn. The same prominence is given of any item regarding a Republican as a Democrat. The editor one day recently was speaking of his closest and warmest friends to one of this number who happened to be a Democrat. The first three mentioned all happened to be Republicans. The friend whom we were talking to said, how is it that in your closest friends you embrace first of all Republicans when your paper is so strongly imbued with Democracy.

Now we didn't name these three Republicans first because they were our three very best friends but because they came into our minds first and at a time of course when politics was not considered by us.

Another strange thing seems to be about the Republicans, is that the best ones are rarely in office, while the worst ones always are. We have come to the conclusion at last that office is poison to a Republican.

A soldier serving in the Philippines was court-martialed for stealing a bar of soap valued at eight cents and sentenced to hard labor for six months. He made the mistake in not organizing a corporation and stealing a car load and appealing his case to the Federal Court which would have reviewed the trial and found it unconstitutional to fine or otherwise punish a corporation for misplacing a car load or two of any articles.

In pardoning Garnett Riple, Gov. Willson has made good the statement that he would pardon any man who would shoot a night rider, and it might have been said any one who would aid and assist. Riple was pardoned without trial or examination, though very damaging evidence is said to be held against him.

Some of the leading fighters against the tobacco trust are Republicans. That is good of them, but for the life of us we can not see how they can fight this iniquitous trust and endorse Governor Willson at the same time.

Twelve thousand steel workers at Youngstown, O., marched in a Taft procession last fall. Last week they were handed a ten per cent reduction in wages.

In Five Minutes.

Take your sour stomach—or may be you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangle and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your stomach misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness and many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle, and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself, after your next meal, that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

The Commercial Convention.

People in this county are interested in the commercial convention which has been called to meet in Louisville April 23. The meeting will be held in the Red Room of the Seelbach Hotel, and will last that afternoon, being followed in the evening by a banquet tendered by the Commercial Club. The delegates will be given the freedom of the Southern Electrical and Industrial Exposition, which will be open at that time.

A call sent out by the Commercial Club, of Louisville, which is arranging the affair, has gone to every commercial body and county judge in the State. It is asked that delegates be appointed by them to represent each county. The convention is expected to have representation from at least 100 counties in Kentucky, so that it will be the most inclusive gathering of the sort since the last State Development Convention.

The object of the meeting is to make the men of all sections of Kentucky known to those of other sections. The McCracken county man and the Carroll county man are to get together, and the Bullitt county man and the Bell county man are to exchange ideas. The delegates will bring information of the resources and needs of their respective counties, and this information will be filed. It will be the first time that a systematic effort has been made to compile such information.

To Increase Your Happiness.

If you would increase your happiness and prolong your life, forget your neighbor's faults. Forget all the slander you ever heard. Forget the temptations. Forget the faultfinding, and only remember the good points which make you fond of them. Forget all personal quarrels of histories you may have heard by accident, and which, if repeated, would seem a thousand times worse than they really are. Blot out, as far as possible, all the disagreeableness of life; they will come, but will only grow larger when you remember them. Obliterate everything disagreeable from yesterday, start out with a clean sheet to-day, and write upon it for sweet memory's sake only those things which are lovely and lovable.

A Short Business Career.

You'd scarcely expect one of my age, in merchandising to engage and hope to get a paying trade without the local paper's aid. And yet I did that very thing; I opened up a store last spring—this morning the sheriff took my stock and sold it on auction block. Don't view me with a scornful eye, but simply say as I pass by: "There goes one who seemed to think he had no use for printer's ink." "There is a truth as broad as earth and business men should know its worth, 'tis simply this: The public buys its goods from those who advertise.

We can't understand why the funny papers always picture the farmer with long whiskers. He has been "shaved" more than anyone in all the industrial classes.

The man who has confidence in a scheme and loses it is still better off than the man who had his money in it and lost that.

The Good Roads Campaign.

Now as the good roads campaign in Kentucky has been started in earnest, it behoves every public citizen who is in sympathy with this most-needed public improvement to exert his every influence in behalf of the constitutional amendment to be submitted to the voters of the State at the next annual State election.

A great movement of this kind would scarcely succeed without public sentiment being thoroughly aroused. This can be done only by a campaign of education, such as was started at the meeting recently held in Louisville. We have every confidence of the officials in this organization being able to prosecute this campaign with all possible vigor.

In addition to placing speakers on the stump and distributing literature freely throughout the State, the assistance of the State press is indispensable, as there is no community in the State that will not be immensely benefited by the adoption of the proposed amendment, and we earnestly hope that the newspapers of Kentucky will join hands in helping to create a sentiment for a measure that will have the effect of releasing the citizens of all parts of the State of intolerable conditions which have surrounded them in all these years.—Ex.

"Busted" His Gall.

An old negro was asleep on the train out of Sedalia the other day, mouth open and snoring when a drummer emptied a quinine capsule on his tongue, says the Butler Democrat. The old darky awakening, began to spit around and called for the conductor saying: "Boss is dere a doctor on dis here train?" "I don't know," said the conductor. "Are you sick?" "Yes, sir, I sho' is sick." "What is the matter with you?" "I dunno, sir, but it taste like I busted my gall."
